

Kelley Drye's Government Relations Practice Releases "2008 Election Overview"

Paul C. Rosenthal, Dana S. Wood, Thomas W. Cohen, David E. Frulla, Laurence J. Lasoff, Dustin J. Painter

November 7, 2008

The results of the 2008 election will bring sweeping changes to Washington, DC. To help you navigate these changes and how your business practices will be affected, Kelley Drye's Government Relations & Public Policy Practice has prepared the attached "2008 Election Overview."

Designed to serve as a comprehensive analysis of the election's results at the Presidential and Congressional levels, the overview also looks ahead to January 2009 and discusses the potential impacts that expanded Democratic leadership will have on the policy landscape. Additionally, the overview identifies potential legislative priorities of the 111th Congress and provides a substantive analysis of key issue areas.