

Laura Riposo VanDruff Quoted on Children's Privacy

December 29, 2025

Partner Laura Riposo VanDruff was quoted in "Kids Privacy Will Remain Bipartisan Focus in 2026; Federal Law Doubtful" for Privacy Daily. The article covers the state of children's privacy enforcement and legislation going into 2026. Laura and other privacy attorneys agree that children's privacy will remain a priority at the state and federal level, though legislation in Congress will encounter many obstacles.

Kids privacy is “not a red or a blue issue” and “states of every stripe are looking to protect kids online, and I think we'll continue to see that,” said Laura, consumer privacy, data security, and consumer protection lawyer at Kelley Drye. There will be a federal push, too, she added.

Read the full article here. Subscription required.

