

Law Technology News Quotes Kelley Drye Blog CommLaw Monitor on FCC Opinion on Carrier Call-Blocking

September 12, 2014

Kelley Drye's Communications Practice Group's blog CommLaw Monitor was referenced in the Law Technology News article "State Attorneys General Seek FCC Opinion on Carrier Call-Blocking." The article discusses how earlier this week the National Association of Attorneys General sent a letter signed by 39 members to the Federal Communications Commission chairman, asking him for a formal opinion on whether there are legal and regulatory prohibitions on telephone carriers who want to use call-blocking technology. The article quoted partner Steven A. Augustino, who authored the blog post, when explaining that the FCC has not issued a response to the letter and it is expected to be put to public opinion in the near future. To read the blog post, click here.