

Law360 Features Partner William A. Escobar in “Trial Pros” Q&A Series

April 12, 2016

Partner William A. Escobar was featured in the Law360 article “Trial Pros: Kelley Drye's Bill Escobar,” highlighting his experiences as a prominent trial attorney for close to 35 years. Having served as chair of Kelley Drye’s litigation practice group from 2006-2013, Mr. Escobar is one of the firm’s leading litigators and has tried cases in federal and state courts across the country. When asked what has been the most interesting trial that he has worked on, Mr. Escobar said, “representing one of the leading financial institutions in the United States in a trial arising from the Enron collapse, with over a billion dollars at stake.” He also discussed his trial preparation routine, advice that he would provide to a lawyer before their first trial and the most unexpected thing that he has experienced during a trial.
