

Law360 Mentions Kelley Drye's Representation of Unsecured Creditors Committee in Apex Parks Bankruptcy

April 27, 2020

Bankruptcy and Restructuring practice group chair Eric Wilson and partner Jason Adams were mentioned in Law360 article, "Apex Parks Can Move Forward With Quick Ch. 11 Sale Plans" following Kelley Drye's retention as counsel to the official committee of unsecured creditors last week. Apex Parks Group, which manages a national chain of amusement parks, filed for Chapter 11 protection on April 9 with over $100 million of debt after shuttering all operations as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic. Apex received permission Friday from a Delaware judge to pursue an expedited sale process with the consent of the committee.

The committee is represented by Eric Wilson and Jason Adams.

To read the full article, please click here. Access may require a subscription.