

Law360 Quotes Partner Paul Rosenthal on Anti-Dumping and Countervailing Duties

June 24, 2016

Partner Paul Rosenthal was quoted in the Law360 article "ITC Says More Tariffs Coming For Some Steel Imports" regarding a June 24 unanimous determination by the International Trade Commission (ITC) that imports of corrosion-resistant steel products from China, India, Italy, Korea and Taiwan are harming the domestic industry. The decision will trigger the Department of Commerce to begin collection of antidumping and countervailing duties according to its May findings that that the merchandise has gained an unfair advantage in the U.S. marketplace. The investigations stem from petitions filed by a group of steel companies including ArcelorMittal USA, which is represented by Kelley Drye attorneys Mr. Rosenthal, Kathleen Cannon and R. Alan Luberda. "The work of the Department of Commerce and the ITC have paved the way to restoring fair conditions in the market for corrosion-resistant steel and helped to ensure that the industry and its employees will be better positioned to benefit from their significant investments and hard work," Mr. Rosenthal said.

To read the full article, please click here. Access may require a subscription.