

Marketplace Interviews

Partner William C. MacLeod on the FTC's 100th Anniversary

September 26, 2014

Partner William C. MacLeod was interviewed on the National Public Radio program Marketplace for their story "Happy 100th, FTC." Marking the 100th anniversary of the Federal Trade Commission, the program took a look at how the agency has changed over the past 100 years. Mr. MacLeod commented that now the Commission pays a lot of attention to technology, data security, and virtual currencies like bitcoin. He said, "The FTC today is as different as the means and media of communication are today."

To listen to the full story click here.