

New York Law Journal Notes Partner Eric R. Wilson as Burton Award Winner

June 6, 2008

The New York Law Journal published an article on the winners of the ninth annual Burton Awards for legal writing, who will be honored on June 16, 2008 at the Library of Congress in Washington D.C. The article reported that U.S. Supreme Court Justice Stephen G. Breyer will be a guest speaker at the ceremony. It explained the awards recognized practitioners and law students for excellence in legal writing. The article listed this year's winners, which includes partner Eric R. Wilson. Wilson was selected for his article, "The Legal Fallout from the Subprime Crisis," which was published in the May 2007 issue of The Banking Law Journal.
