

Paul Singer Quoted in Privacy Daily

March 20, 2026

Partner and State Attorneys General practice chair Paul Singer was quoted by Privacy Daily in their article, "Lawyers Alert Businesses to Increased State Focus on 'Surveillance Pricing.'" The article covers the expected increase in algorithmic pricing laws as the issue has become high-profile and a top priority among state enforcers.

"The push right now is a continued sign that states in particular are trying to proactively address the types of consumer harms that are theoretically possible using new developments in technology, especially AI and algorithmic decision-making," said Paul.
