About

Randall Morrison is an experienced commercial trial lawyer whose practice focuses on complex commercial litigation across a range of industries. He is a trusted advisor to clients including multiple Fortune 500 companies, multinational corporations, hedge funds, and real estate lending platforms.

Randall takes a strategic approach to dispute resolution. As a commercial litigator, he understands the expenses inherent with fighting a claim, and the impact that a dispute may have on a client's brand and reputation. Randall works to minimize the effects of litigation on his clients' operations and devise practical solutions that protect their businesses. He has successfully guided his clients through high-profile litigations, internal investigations, and regulatory matters.

Randall began his career as an assistant corporation counsel with the New York City Law Department. There, he represented the City of New York and its employees in a wide variety of disputes including admiralty, torts, and constitutional issues.
