

Ryan T. Kelly

Associate

rkelly@kelleydrye.com

New York
(212) 808-5961

About

Ryan helps companies protect their interests in complex commercial and business disputes including breach of contract, fraud and joint venture contested matters. He has managed all stages of complex civil litigation matters including large discovery investigations and dispositive motion practice. Ryan also defends clients facing consumer class actions for false advertising, promotional pricing, and unfair trade practice. A significant focus of his practice relates to the defense of claims under the Telephone Consumer Protection Act (TCPA) related to auto-dialed calls, advertising faxes and texts.

Before joining the firm, Ryan gained valuable lessons in motion practice as a judicial intern to Chief Judge John DeGuilio in the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Indiana.

Experience

Member of team representing a cosmetic industry company in a manufacturing contract dispute under New York law.

Member of the team representing the largest privately held spirits company in the world, defending its claims to the HAVANA CLUB trademark and seeking cancellation of Cuba's putative registration in the D.C. District Court.

Team member representing numerous clients in putative class actions and individual claims in state and federal court alleging damages under the Telephone Consumer Protection Act and state analogues.

Related Services

Commercial Litigation
Consumer Class Action Defense
Litigation
Privacy and Information Security
Telephone Consumer Protection Act (TCPA) Defense
Trademark and Copyright Litigation

Education

University of Notre Dame Law School, J.D.
• magna cum laude

- Notre Dame Journal of International and Comparative Law, executive productions editor
Temple University, B.A.
- cum laude
- Criminal Justice

Admissions

New York

Languages

Spanish