

Second Circuit Copyright Ruling Offers Relief From Late-Filed Suits

Andrea L. Calvaruso

June 2, 2020

Partner Andrea Calvaruso co-authored a Law360 Expert Analysis entitled “2nd Circ. Copyright Ruling Offers Relief From Late-Filed Suits.” The article discusses the significance of the Sohm v. Scholastic Inc. decision that monetary damages in a copyright infringement suit are limited to those incurred in the three years preceding the commencement of suit. The Sohm decision resolves a disagreement that had emerged within the Second Circuit since the U.S. Supreme Court's decision in Petrella v. Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Studios Inc.

Read the full article here. Access may require subscription.