About

Stephanie (Grob) Carroll's practice focuses on commercial, copyright, trademark, and privacy litigation.

She has a background in fashion and retail and uses that experience to offer clients strategic counseling to protect their intellectual property rights, and defend them in contested copyright and trademark infringement litigations, as well as in adversarial matters before the TTAB.

She is well-versed in representing clients faced with claims under state privacy laws, such as the California Invasion of Privacy Act (CIPA), Florida Security of Communication Act (FSCA), and Pennsylvania Wiretapping and Electronic Surveillance Control Act (WESCA). She monitors these claims to advise clients on the shifting legal landscape.

Stephanie is also dedicated to her pro bono practice. She frequently manages trademark registrations for pro bono clients.

During law school, Stephanie was the student director of the Fashion Law Institute Pop-Up Clinic at Fordham University School of Law from Fall 2016 – Spring 2018. Also, she participated in the Samuelson-Glushko Intellectual Property and Information Law Clinic for the Fall 2017 semester.
