

Waterways

On issues related to global waterways and oceans, Kelley Drye combines deep experience and the breadth of a full-service law firm.

About

Kelley Drye's attorneys have acquired a great deal of knowledge about our clients in these sectors through years of representing them in matters involving contaminated sediments and waterways, tariff construction and enforcement, commercial litigation and contract disputes, pipeline easements and related disputes, catastrophic accidents, spills, derailments and allisions, emergency prevention and response actions, internal investigations, and a wide variety of other issues.

We also work with and represent clients before federal and state agencies, including the United States Army Corps of Engineers and United States Coast Guard, on matters impacting navigation and commerce.
