

Wayne D'Angelo Quoted in Politico

November 6, 2025

Partner and Environmental practice co-chair Wayne D'Angelo was quoted by Politico in "Democrats Show Early Signs of Winning Energy Messaging War." The article covers partisan stances on energy costs in 2025 electoral races. Decisive victories for Democrats in Virginia, New Jersey, and Georgia demonstrate the efficacy of the party's messaging on affordability.

"Whether it is in response to perceptions of strengthened public support for renewables or just pragmatism, I believe (or hope) that lawmakers will view the post-election period as a less politically perilous time to support energy projects of all types."
