

Treated like Family

In times of need, Serrv partner Kumbeshwar Technical School in Nepal treats its knitters and weavers like family. Laxmi Bajracharya, a knitter working with KTS for over 14 years, was recently diagnosed with leukemia. Unable to pay for her treatment and blood transfusions, the KTS team fundraised through their network to support Laxmi through this difficult time. She was able to complete her treatment and has recovered completely! Laxmi is now back at work with KTS, at a job she loves where she knows people come first.
