

Are you an experienced freelance Product Designer?

Serrv International currently works with over 50 artisan groups in 24 countries. We're looking for creative and collaborative designers interested in traveling internationally for short-term projects. Our artisan groups, based in developing countries, specialize in a wide range of product classifications from jewelry to ceramics to textiles.

Your Role

- Conduct design workshops with artisans, sharing knowledge of the design process and market research.
- Share knowledge of recent trend research and help artisans gain knowledge of U.S. market trends and color palettes.
- Design new products with artisans based on the raw materials available in their region.
- Help artisans improve their process efficiency and reduce waste.

Your Skills

- Experience in handcraft product design.
- Ability to travel internationally, specifically to developing countries.
- Interest and knowledge in the Fair Trade industry.
- Experience in trend research.
- Good eye for photography.

Please submit resume and a portfolio link to apply.merchandising@serrv.org