THE TIE THAT BINDS

by Dale Jenkins

It's great to be a Christian in 2020! What a thrill to be able to worship the Lord today. I challenge you whether you are here in person or here online in hopes of being in person soon to put your whole spirit into our worship today!

It's going to be a grand day. The best news of the day is that we welcome another new family to our Family. Brandon and Laura Nutt are a beautiful couple with a lovely story of faith and grace. They are both from California originally and have two children. Kiley is a freshman in college (heading to Freed-Hardeman next month) and Gabriel is a 9th grader. Brandon runs Brandon Nutt Construction and Laura is a homeschool mom who also loves crafts. I know you'll help make them feel, as they are, loved, here.

Today is exciting because Dan and Diane will be with us. As they have isolated and I have traveled so much less, Dan has only preached here one other time since March and I know we are all excited that he will be with us. Dan will share some exciting news with us this morning in addition to the very best news - the Gospel - that he always shares so effectively. It is going to be a grand day. The best is ahead.

In some ways 2020 has seemed like a very long year and in other ways it is hard to believe we have now wound down to the last Sunday of this year. It has been a hard year in so many ways for many people. Yet in a myriad of ways, we have been blessed here at Spring Meadows most richly. Overall your attitudes, your efforts to stay positive, your faithfulness to worship with us in person or online, your generosity, your activity through all of this has been more than exemplary. I am rightly proud of you. I know that it has not always been easy. I know at times you have not liked something, I know at times you have had to say "I don't like 'this' but I love the Lord and I love This Family, so I will adjust the temptation to have a wrong attitude." I commend you. We have grown through all of this in many ways. We have added a large number of families and several have become Christians. I am prayerfully optimistic the finish line is at least in view. Continue to take care, continue to pray, and continue to fight the flesh and the little cracks in your life where the devil might find entry through attitudinal or actionable sin. And remember, we are Christians, the best is always ahead, there is a feast at the end of all of this! And, ultimately, there is heaven at the end of it all.
