Sunny, Sassy Pendant

Make this fun pendant from polymer clay and "Sassy" QuickBits embellishment set

This is a quick and easy project, and so perfect for summer!

You'll need:

- . "Sassy QuickBits embellishment set
- . black polymer clay
- . a needle tool (or my favorite tool- "Wow It's Awesome")
- . a hanging hook (like an eye pin, or make your own from wire)
- . some headpins
- . a small paint brush
- . wire cutters and pliers
- . and an oven to bake the clay in, of course!

"Sassy" QuickBits = freshwater pearl assortment, "Flash" gold mica powder and "Neon Princess" pigment powder

"Wow It's Awesome" tool

1. Roll some black polymer clay into a ball about the size of a grape.
2. Flatten it with your fingers.

3. Use an eye hook as a hanging hook (or make your own).

4. Insert the hook into the flattened clay circle, as a hanger.

5. Take the pearls from the “Sassy” QuickBits set and slip each one onto a headpin (you’ll need probably 10-12 pearls to fit around the pendant). Trim the excess wire to leave about 10mm. of wire exposed. Bend a hook in the end of the wire. Do this for all the pearls.

6. Push the pearls, hook-end first, into the edge of the clay circle. Press in far enough so that the pearl is slightly embedded into the clay. Add pearls all around in the same way.

7. Use a paintbrush to coat the entire surface of the black clay with the “Flash” gold mica powder from the “Sassy” QuickBits set.
8. Use a tool to scratch through the powder to reveal the black clay. A double circle in the center with lines radiating outward is nice. Add some circles in the middle if you want (for a flowery feel).

9. Wipe the brush clean and use the final powder from the “Sassy” QuickBits set, “Neon Princess” pink, to add additional color in the center of the circle. Blow or brush away the excess.

10. Bake the pendant in a preheated oven according to the time and temperature recommended by your clay brand.

I recommend that you protect the powders by coating with a clear glaze that is compatible with polymer clay. Let it dry.

Add a ribbon to the hanging hook and tah dah! You’ve got yourself a sassy summertime pendant!
