A Lifeline for Your Music Program

"Bringing Music to Life is a Colorado-based nonprofit whose mission is to collect, repair, and distribute musical instruments to underserved public school music programs throughout Colorado. Over the past 14 years, Bringing Music to Life has distributed 9,500 instruments to over 360 schools, reaching more than 25,000 young musicians across the state.

Teachers across Colorado have told us, "Bringing Music to Life has been a lifesaver for my program," while another shared that without the instruments provided through Bringing Music to Life, "hundreds of students would never have had the chance to learn an instrument."
