FOR IT

Fall feels a little like a new beginning. Despite the fact that this season is marked by dying leaves, the weather turning colder as we head toward winter, and the MLB is headed toward the end of its season, other things are starting...school for our kids, a passionate love of all things pumpkin (for some of us), and football season are just getting started.

Here at Brea Baptist we are starting something new for us: Rooted. This 10-week small group experience is about fresh faith and connection with God and His Church, and is perfect for new believers and those who could use a refreshing self-check, like we all sometimes do. For me it was a great time to challenge myself on the basics that we, in our busy-ness, often forget. The dynamic conversation of prayer, the commitment to reading and memorizing God's Word, the urgent need of sharing my faith story with others, and victory over personal obstacles are sometimes things we followers of Jesus can become complacent about. Getting into a small group where we read and discuss these things is so important, and I hope you'll get into one.
