

CCCF Bylaws Affirmation

The bylaws of Christ Community Church in Frisco are, among other things, the interface between our ecclesial government, as prescribed by Scripture, and State and Federal government, as prescribed by their respective legislatures.

As the relationship between church and state becomes more and more complex, it becomes ever more important to define our being and our function as a church. Some churches without bylaws or with weak bylaws have been challenged by opportunistic litigants or by embittered, disaffected members at the expense of the peace and unity of the body, and at the peril of their congregation.

To that end, we have created the CCCF Bylaws and their amendments, and in the spirit of complete transparency about who we are and how we function, we ask all members to read and understand the CCCF Bylaws, and to affirm that they have both read and understand them. We also make our bylaws available not only to our membership, but to all who want to learn more about Christ Community Church in Frisco by keeping them current and posted on our website.*

To ensure that all members are thoroughly familiar with who Christ Community Church in Frisco is and how we function, we ask you to sign below, affirming that you have read and understand the CCCF Bylaws.
