Saturday, March 30th

9:00 AM – Noon

@ First Presbyterian Church
Stanley, NC

With years of experience to draw from, Dawn Poulterer Woods will help parents navigate the current cultural issues of today to equip our teens to flourish in God's calling for their lives. With the backdrop of modern culture, parenting today is flooded with unprecedented technological advances, instant access to unlimited information, and a marketplace of ideas and priorities, all competing for our teen's hearts. Our time together will include practical tips and resources, personal reflections and applications, as well as a Q&A Session.
