Specific Prayer Requests

Matt Wise – Matt recently had to put his beloved mother into hospice. To his knowledge she is not a believer. Pray that the Lord would open her heart to the saving knowledge of Jesus before she passes from her earthly home. Pray too for Matt’s comfort as he deeply loves his mother.

Elly Lang – “Please pray for my family and friends that live in North Carolina salvation first and foremost. Also they are about 2-3 hours away from the coast where the hurricane could possible strike. They could still get high winds and flooding. Please pray the storm changes direction and that God would protect them all during the storm. My nephew Dakotah is a firefighter in Fayetteville and most likely will be at the fire house when or if the storm hits so pray for his new wife as she most likely will be home by herself.”

Dennis & Bonnie Chancellor—Please pray for the ongoing challenges with their health. Pray the doctors will have wisdom on how to best treat both of their conditions.

Carrol Nelson’s recovery after being attacked by a pit bull at work. Pray they will have wisdom as to how to work with workman’s comp and the post office while he heals.

Jeff Bithers who underwent a liver transplant has had to go back into the hospital. Pray for this family to be encouraged and that the doctors will be able to pinpoint how to treat his condition. Pray for his wife and children to be sense the comfort of the Holy Spirit.

The Malm Family: Scott’s sister and Ann’s mom, Sharon Danolf (who had cancer 6 years ago) are both being treated for blood cancer and are both undergoing chemotherapy. Pray the side effects would be minimal and the treatments would be effective.

Kevin Lavin – son of Meg & Ron. Here is the latest update from Ron: “We had to withdraw him from his high school, put him in an online program. Pain is debilitating, and he can’t walk or stand much. He saw a parade of pediatricians and specialists in the past 2 weeks, and had a steroid/lidocaine spinal injection, it worked for about a day. Your continued prayers and cards are welcomed and appreciated. He has faith but needs encouragement.”
