WHAT I'VE LEARNED ABOUT BEING A DAD FROM BEING CLUELESS

By Geoff Surratt

Father's Day always reminds me of my first day as a father. It was a glorious moment, my wife glowing, the angels singing, my perfect little child, cooing and cradled in my arms. Except that is not at all how it happened. After an intense labor, the doctor handed me a screaming bundle of kicking arms and legs, an unfamiliar creature with a striking resemblance to Yoda. The best you can do is the best you can do.

God chose you to parent your children. He knows you are goofy, clueless, and immature (maybe that's just me), but He chose you anyway. You can't be the perfect
