

May 2018 - Week 1 Elementary Parent Cue

MAY 2018

WEEK ONE:

2 KINGS 5

Naaman and Elisha's
Servant, Gehazi

SAY THIS:

When you're not truthful,
you lose trust.

DO THIS:

MORNING TIME

Cut out a heart on a sheet of paper and write, "Lying is trouble even if you don't get caught. It's trouble for your heart. Be sure to protect your heart!" Post the heart cut out somewhere where your child will see it in the morning.

REMEMBER THIS:

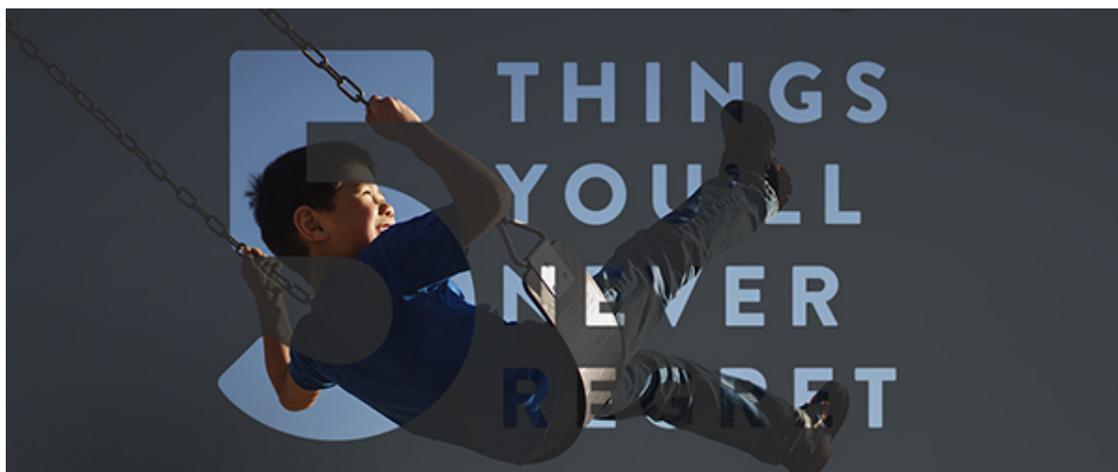

"Anyone who lives without blame walks safely.

But anyone who takes a crooked path will get caught.”
Proverbs 10:9, NIV

LIFE APP:

HONESTY – Choosing to be truthful in whatever you say and do

From Parent Cue:

THINGS YOU'LL NEVER REGRET AS A PARENT

By Carey Nieuwhof

Yes, it really was a bad idea to give your six-year-old access to the finger paints while you did the laundry. And maybe it wasn't all that wise when you had that fight heated conversation in the kitchen when the kids were watching cartoons.

We all have regrets.

But the flip side is also true.

We all have things we'll never regret doing as a parent. And if you think about doing things you'll never regret, you can actually do them more often.

Here are some things I think you'll never regret as a parent:

1. Taking family vacations

It can be so hard to find both time and money to get away, but it's been one of the best things we've done as a family over the years.

While staycations can be decent, a vacation moves everyone out of their native environment. All of you move into new experiences and new environments together. Even if you don't have a ton of money, borrow someone's house for the weekend (we've done that), and change up the scenery. Moments away will become some of your kids' fondest memories—and yours . . .
