Come and meet Cambodian born SokReaksa Himm

Hear his incredible true story of how he survived the horrific genocide of the Pol Pot regime. Thirteen members of his immediate family including his parents were brutally murdered by the Khmer Rouge and though severely wounded himself, he survived hidden under the bodies of his family.

Discover how he escapes capture and how years later he travels back to his village to meet and forgive his family’s killers.

Reaksa clearly demonstrates just how love can triumph over hatred and how forgiveness can set you free.
