

The Star-Ledger

December 28, 2011

By Robert Johnson

Arden Court

Expanding its repertoire in an unexpected direction, the Alvin Ailey American Dance Theater brought power and surpassing lyricism to Paul Taylor's "Arden Court," at New York City Center, this month. Taylor's work makes a perfect fit for this company, which shares his love of athleticism and his theatrical values. A stunning cast including Kirven J. Boyd, Antonio Douthit, Alicia Graf Mack, Rachael McLaren, Linda Celeste Sims and Glenn Allen Sims made the roses bloom in this garden, sheltering lovers with noble affections.