

BACKGROUND

Cobb County Department of Transportation (CCDOT) and CobbLinc have initiated a series of studies to develop planning-level programming needs for three transit centers. The County is proposing to expand and relocate the existing CobbLinc transfer facilities at Cumberland and Marietta and develop a third facility in the South Cobb area.

The Cumberland Transit Center Site Feasibility Study builds on the systemwide analysis and needs assessment undertaken in Phase 1. It includes a feasibility study, site selection, conceptual design, and environmental screening for the Cumberland Transit Center to determine a new locally-preferred site.
