Connecting With Customers,
Communities, and Companies Since 1930

 CorTrust Bank.
Raise your expectations

Raising Expectations Since 1930

When Boyd Hopkins, Sr. was hired as an assistant cashier at Live Stock State Bank in 1948, he had large aspirations and an even larger work ethic. It was that ambition that lead him to eventually become the president of the company. For three generations (pictured to the left), CorTrust Bank has been committed to providing the highest quality of customer service and products to meet our customers’ growing needs. For more than 85 years we have been a viable part of communities throughout South Dakota and Minnesota. It is our rich history that motivates the work we do today. Whether we are helping local farming families have profitable operations or assisting first-time home buyers, our goals are clear. CorTrust Bank will strive to create successful plans for the futures of those we serve and exceed the needs of our customers. We are dedicated to continuing this tradition of service and look forward to reaching higher and raising expectations for years to come.

Connected With Customers

What started out as a bank focused on aiding local farmers has today grown into a diverse bank, with products ranging from wealth management and credit cards to mortgage loans and business banking. Our motivation to continually improve the services we offer is fueled by a constant source: you. Since 1930, we’ve been responding to the growing needs of our customers. For example, when the convenience of online banking was needed, we, without hesitation, delivered. We will continue to create efficient and time saving banking solutions to provide the best customer experience possible. More importantly, we are centered on forging meaningful relationships with our customers to meet their financial goals.

Connected With Communities

While the needs of our communities have changed with the times, our principle to give back has not. We remain committed to supporting the 25 locations we serve in South Dakota and Minnesota. We do this by donating our time, expertise, financial resources, and caring spirit. What makes CorTrust unique is our staff’s commitment to philanthropic activities, such as providing college scholarships, volunteering at food shelters, raking leaves for the elderly, or serving on the board of local nonprofits. Employees connect with the well being of their communities and share the values of CorTrust Bank. “Instilling a strong responsibility for the success of our local cities and towns in our employees is a top priority. We believe in the power of community collaboration to truly make a difference. The proudest moments for me are when CorTrust team members go above and beyond to make our communities a better place to live, work, and play,” said Jack Hopkins, President and CEO of CorTrust Bank.
