

DESCRIBE YOUR

Character

Name:

Archetype:

Sex:

Apparent Age:

Build (height/weight):

Palette (eye, hair, skin color):

Distinguishing traits:

Habits and Mannerism (physical / speech patterns):

Style and distinctive elements of their look:

Physical Description (it should include all previous points):

More on: <http://mylittleblackbird.com>

DESCRIBE YOUR

Character

Education/Intelligence:

Mental illnesses:

How they see themselves:

How they believe others see them:

Self-confidence:

Introvert or Extrovert:

Emotional or Rational:

Spiritual or Concrete:

Generous or Egoist:

Judgmental or Laissez-faire:

Polite or Rude:

Greatest Fear:

Greatest Source of happiness:

Values (self-evident beliefs):

Ambition (abstract objective):

Goal (concrete objective):

Lie(s) they believe in:

DESCRIBE YOUR

Character

Other character:

Relationship:

Other character:

Relationship:

Other character:

Relationship:

DESCRIBE YOUR

Character

Pyramid of Needs/Motivations

To have needs/motivation at one level, the previous levels needs to be fulfilled. You don't need to fill every one. If a need is fulfilled and the character has no further motivation at that stage, just write "fulfilled".

Deficiency (The more these needs are fulfilled, the least they represent a motivation)

Physiological (e.g. air, food, sex, sleep, etc.):

Safety (e.g. security, order, etc.):

Love and belongingness (e.g. friendship, intimacy, trust, etc.):

Esteem (e.g. dignity, achievement, prestige, etc.):

Growth (The more these needs are fulfilled, the more they represent a motivation)

Cognitive (e.g. knowledge, exploration, meaning, etc.):

Aesthetic (e.g. beauty, form, etc.):

Self-actualization (e.g. self-fulfillment, personal growth, etc.):

Transcendence (mystical/religious, pursuit of science, service to others, etc.):

More on: <http://mylittleblackbird.com>

DESCRIBE YOUR

Character

Character Sketches

More on: <http://mylittleblackbird.com>