Asking Questions

Writing: Rough Draft Cause and Effect

Directions:

Brainstorm cause and effect by completing the boxes below.

Cause: Instead of rain, what do you wish would fall from the clouds?
This could be sprinkles, stuffed animals, or cupcakes.

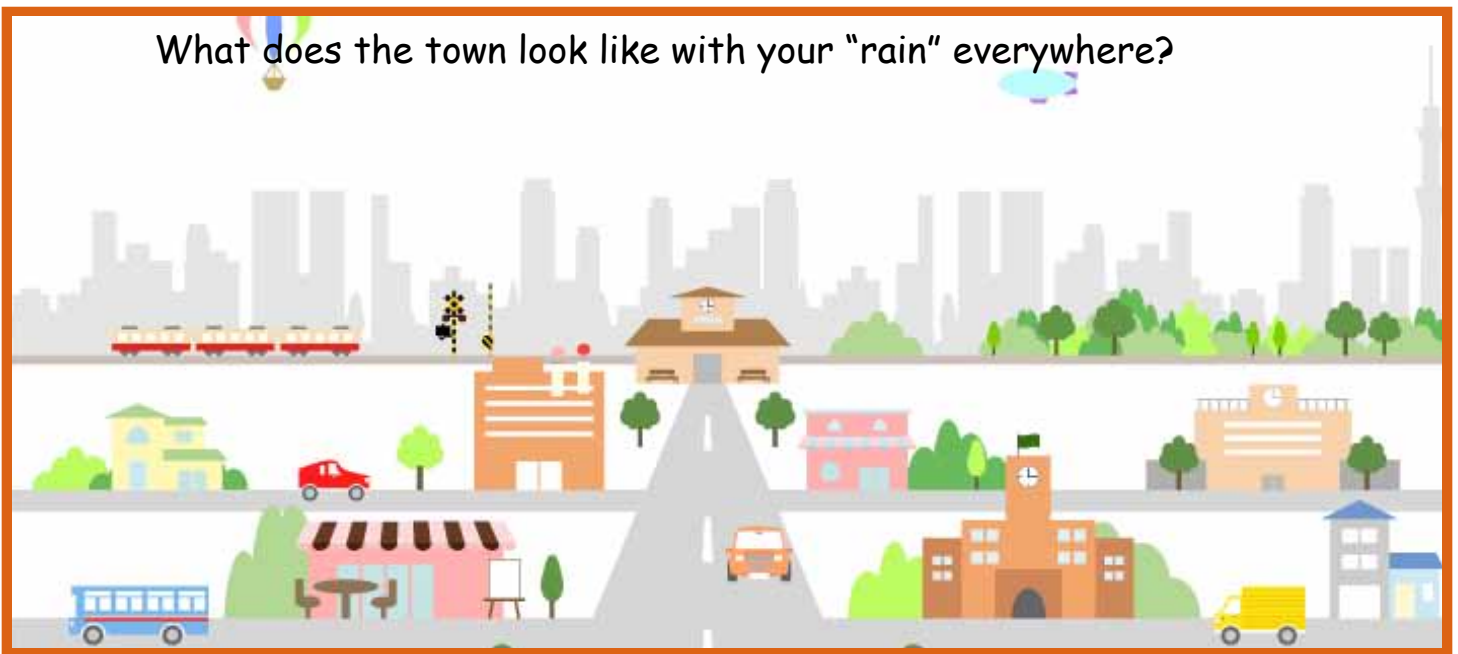

Draw a picture of what you wish it would "rain."

Effect: Draw a picture of what happens as a result of it raining your chosen item.

What does the town look like with your "rain" everywhere?

Characters: Who/What is your story about? Include details.

Setting: Where and when will your story take place?

Problem: Write the problem your character faces. This will most likely have to do with your effect. Is there too much of your "rain?" What will people do with all the "rain?" _____

Solution: How does your character solve the problem?
