

THE WINGS OF A DOVE

by AJ Leonard

Dark clouds advancing in front of the coming storm
Children come down from the hill to where it's safe and warm
I never meant to leave you lost and afraid in the night
But sometimes a man has to do what he thinks is right

We all want protection
We all need to love
Some of us are borne
On the wings of a dove

I've fallen down the mountain been carried away on the tide
Caught by temptation just going along for the ride
But where is the justice that keeps you away from me
Made to feel guilty for trying to break free

We all want connection
We all need to love
Some of us are borne
On the wings of a dove

We can't always choose where the heart will lead us from here
A head full of choices there's too many voices so near
If I took you for granted there's only myself to blame
I'm finding the courage to change all the rules of this game

We all want direction
We all need to love
Some of us are borne
On the wings of a dove

The sounds of the playground come drifting across on the breeze
The summer has gone, the leaves have all dropped from the trees
The storm is upon us please come and get out of the rain
There's light in the darkness but when will I see you again

We all want perfection
We all need to love
Some of us are borne
On the wings of a dove
