

Oh, What a Day

©Patrick Drummond and Meagan Pledger, May 10, 2012

Verse 1:

Well I've heard Jesus is coming
and I'm looking for that day.
I may be tired, worn, and battered as life throws its trials my way.
So I'll keep pressing each day harder
a little further down the road.
And I'll keep striving till I see Jesus.
So I will hear one day my child, "Well done."

Chorus:

Oh, what a day it's gonna be when I hear that trumpet call when those graves start bursting open and those saints of old are gone.
You'll see me in that royal number when the gates swing open wide.
I'm gonna shout my way to glory
Because at last you know I will be home.

Verse 2:

I'm so ready to see Jesus.
I think about it every day.
I'll be united with my loved ones.
who have passed along the way.
I know they got me a place at the table
where we all can gather round.
And I'll listen to my Jesus.
I'll finally hear, "My child, well done."

Chorus

Tag:

I'm gonna shout my way to glory
Cause at last I will be home.