

COMPLETING THE LINE.

The Radial Railway Building Into the Villages of Burlington.

If the present fine weather lasts the Hamilton Radial railway expects to have the line into Burlington completed by New Year's day.

The company has entered into no further negotiations with the Hamilton street railway for the use of Bancroft avenue, and will do nothing until spring. In the event of the company not being able to come to an agreement with the street railway people, it will ask the City council for permission to run on Birch avenue.

December 20, 1897