All fired up Wind down the weekend at Thee Parkside this afternoon with down-home eats, fire-grilled treats, and a heapin' helping of smokin' Americana and roots rock by singer-songwriter Gina Villalobos. With a new record, Rock n Roll Pony, due out next month on Kick Music, Villalobos combines a slightly raspy singing style, confessional lyrics, and a sometimes melancholy, sometimes inspirational sound that shimmers with slide guitar and her laid-back strumming on the rhythm side of the tracks. Dave Gleason's Wasted Days also play. 5 p.m., Thee Parkside, 1600 17th St., S.F. Free. (415) 503-0393. (McCourt)
