

Saskia 's Solo Act ft DANSOR

Performing with special effects devices around her waist which she operates with one hand whilst playing the trumpet with the other, Saskia walks around, wireless amplified, and adds an extra dimension to contemporary house, techno, funk, electronica, R&B, hip-hop, reggae, downtempo and drum'n'bass.

Saskia has teamed up with Dansor, a Hungarian DJ and composer with her own label Compost Records. They first collaborated in Amsterdam's pop temple Paradiso at the Women in Paradise event for international Women's Day. Since then Saskia has recorded the track "Feeling", for Dansor's newly to be released album "Theory of Love".

Anett Kulcsar AKA Dansor is a woman on the rise. Born and raised in Budapest, Hungary, she moved to the Netherlands in 1997 – a switch that would play a significant role in intensifying her relationship with all things house and techno. A multifaceted DJ, producer, live act and visual designer, Dansor is also the brains behind the burgeoning Comport Records, an independent label that's making quite the name for itself in underground circles. 'My aim' says Dansor, 'is to combine and apply techniques used in the experimental music/art scene with danceable music.' It's an aim that she's become increasingly adept at too,
