

smooth like sand when the wave comes in like summer grass in the prairie wind you make me wanna do things we're not supposed to do you make me want to sing soft again all I ever wanted was to feel my senses

i'll never give another love, give another love never love another
you're never gonna get a better affection but i still wanna take deep cover childlike yes and a jubilant heart you pushed me away from the very start pretty little fingers pullin' at your skin i'll be in the front yard trying not to cave in

but i still wanna take deep cover

remember the night I was drunk and I got scared? you stood right next to me, on guard hands on my back and you stayed there one more reason and I fell hard you stayed

but i still wanna take deep cover
