

my body's here in this place, but my mind's so far away it's not typical to let my mind run, but i know i'm not the only one feel the pulse, exhale my breath eyes shut, hand on my chest will you show me all your heart, tell me all your secrets?

you've been so very very true to me we've danced our songs with all the best of heart but somethings always in a different tune to me we could sing on forever, i thank my lucky stars but if you want to just come a little bit closer then you could take me in your arms

my body's here in this place, but my mind's so far away
will you show me all your heart,

the winds of heaven are breathing through the gates of my bones and the warm waters within where my love grows in the open wind the fresh air rushes in where rivers pour out, the dam broke again and now in stillness all i wish is for you closer to my skin

my body's here in this place, but my mind's so far away
will you show me all your heart,
tell me all your secrets?
