

good morning to you love of my heart you know you've been sleeping for days all the grey skies are gone with the new day sun so good morning to you love of my heart a tree flocked with robins breasted red making their home in my head oh a prayer on a wing such a beautiful thing i pray you'll kiss me tonight in my bed hello mister man-of-the-day you've stoned me with no words to say i've been loving you so and i'm scared that you'll go but what's more is i'm scared that you'll stay i used to be so scared of love one thing and i'd be down on my knees now i see giving up's just giving in so i say with you giving up is easy goodnight moon and stars of my heart your light shakes my bed from afar and i know you'll be gone when the morning comes but i'm gonna love you wherever you are
