

in my mind i waited years for you in my mind's eye i knew you well overrated, quick burn-outs would never do i stood ground for you that i never knew i could
held my ground for you

falling away at the depths of your heart following secrets that only you know someone to love you wherever you are somewhere to stay where only you go oh oh oh

oh i pray i can sing in a way to make the spirits glad give my whole heart away only keep the secret parts and know the body can't stay

somewhere to stay where only you go
oh oh oh

it's your one precious dream of all dreams the sweet little love you're making oh it's only your head that can't see it's every breath you're taking don't you want to know?

why there is stardust in your eyes don't you want to hear your softly spoken lullabies? don't you want to feel how it feels to be alive?

all the thunder in your head give it just a little love, just a little love you'll get rain instead
