"We finished the final touches laying out this album on Friday October 26th and on Saturday October 27th when I turned back on my TV after Shabbat I saw the horror that had unfolded that morning in Pittsburgh at the Tree of Life Synagogue. It is my deepest believe that music can help us find away to come together again. "

-Sonia Rutstein

By My Silence

"Her Songs are a vivid celebration of the human spirit in all its infinite manifestations" wrote Don Kening in the Chicago Daily Herald and her new album By My Silence once again lends a voice to those that cannot be heard.

The CD opens with the song "A Voice For Nudem Durak" written for a young Kurdish woman imprisoned in Turkey for singing in her native tongue and reminds us of the dangers of not speaking up against hate in the title track "By My Silence". The album then takes through the warmth she has experienced touring Germany in the song "Wandering Jew" and the struggles to be who we are in her song "Who I Am" and then closes with "Ahavnu" (we have loved).

In a world that has seen a rise in hate and fear that is contrived to divide people SONiA reminds us with these songs to disappear fear.
