

Short Bio of George Walley, Musical Director of Madjtil Moorna Choir
Updated Feb 2017

George is a Noongar from the Bindjareb Territory, born in Pinjarra WA. He has taught in primary schools in the Kimberley and metro area and also lectured at Murdoch University. He currently manages an Aboriginal Health Centre in Mandurah.

George is connected with the land and his people and works as a consultant for native title, heritage research, community consultation and cross-cultural awareness. In 2017 his Mandurah-based tourism business, Mandjoogordap Dreaming will begin operating.

An award-winning singer-songwriter playing guitar, George performs at festivals and community events. He sees Madjtil Moorna as a way to live reconciliation through music.
