

OUTSIDE

thank you for thinking it over thank you for making it all right we're not getting any older thank you for turning back time thank you for the understanding in my state of revelry so real, no one could've planned it thank you for setting us free here i'm trapped all on the inside

only have myself to blame
if you turn and go
can i follow you there?
will you take me to the outside?

thank you for pulling back the curtain i laughed when it opened wide only one thing is for certain now there's nothing left to hide won't you take me back?

here i'm trapped all on the inside
only have myself to blame
if you turn and go
can i follow you there?
will you take me to the outside?

here i'm trapped all on the inside
only have myself to blame
if you turn and go
can i follow you there?
will you take me to the outside?