

The Dark Heart Age

It looks best if you lie a lot
There are times when I self-destruct
No one came here to save your soul
Someone else's time
Someone else in time

The same show's on repeat again
The bottom floor keeps breakin' in
We're a couple dark hearts who needed more
We can run from anything

In the end it's not what is said
What was done is now done again
Placing forced innuendos sold
Patience
patience

The same show's on repeat again
The bottom floor keeps breakin' in
We're a couple dark hearts who needed more
We can run from anything

I'm so tired of tryin' through this static phase
Nothin' changes you in the worst of ways

So if your mind's wrong why don't you come on Let's stay together we're forever one
In the dark heart age

Seen the symbols now fall in line
Talk about the days left behind
Setting sun's about set again
Here the monster lies
Let the right one in

The same show's on repeat again
The bottom floor keeps breakin' in
We're a couple dark hearts who needed more
We can run from anything
Anything
anything
