

Intrigued

If I found a way I wouldn't make a sound I'd take the world away and turn it upside-down 'cause when I was conquered I was nothing like you found you starin' through the ground tryin' to move your feet when I turn up

you turn around
you're intrigued

as the sun goes down we can bathe in the sea our feet above the ground, our bodies float free as written in the scriptures, we're larger than life when I feel your lips to mine we lose the need to speak

just like an antique rose, your heart filled with light only heaven knows, if it was second-sight like seein' in the future, it dawned on us both turning toward the infinite aligning so we meet

you turn around
you're
