

Valentine

warm bed, late at night, you're so trouble no sex without a fight, you're so trouble but you may be out tonight but you'll have to make things right

don't you say that everything's better for you

i'm rich and you're right, it's so subtle we'd be valentines, we start touchin'
