

You and I

Take my hand
Close your eyes, I'll turn out the light
One by one
I'll kiss you as we slip into the night

'cause you and I want everything
want everything alright
'cause you and I want everything
want everything alright

you keep me away from all the shadows of before as we sleep
I dream of love and forget about the war

want everything alright
'cause you and I want everything
want everything alright

I have something to tell, but you know
Never been in love this long before

Some day, babe
We'll find a little place out on the beach
We'll catch a wave
And spend our days just starin' out to sea

want everything alright
'cause you and I want everything
want everything alright

you and I want everything
want everything alright
'cause you and I want everything
want everything alright
