

July

July, I found your sunshine
Knowing you didn't shine light
That night was so bright
Did you see my face?
I'm following your trace
Wondering if it makes sense
Look for a sign.

Ho you... You are like the Tinkerbell
With a shiny spotlight
In a hip-length hot dress.

Ho you... You are like the stars above
A distant spotlight
In a late summer hot night.

July, I found your sunshine
Knowing you didn't shine light
That night was so bright
Did you see my face?
I'm following your trace
Wondering if it makes sense
Look for a sign.

Do you pretend it?
Or do you ignore it?
No, you... No, you can't listen to my feelings
Or other things that I'd like to show
Flowers can't smell and neither words can't tell
The infinite feelings that I have about you

July, I found your sunshine
Knowing you didn't shine light
That night was so bright
Did you see my face?
I'm following your trace
Wondering if it makes sense
Look for a sign.

Get close to me
Tell me something in my ear
Show me what you're saying is real
Feel your touch when you get near
And smell the fragrance of your skin
Taste the sugar on your lips
Feel no cold and have no fear
Just the moment and that is clear.

My July, I found your sunshine
Knowing you didn't shine light
That night was so bright
Did you see my face?
I'm following your trace
Wondering if it makes sense
Look for a sign.

July, I found your sunshine
Knowing you didn't shine light
Knowing you didn't shine light
You were so bright
That night was so bright
You are so fine
Did you see my face?
I'm following your trace
One last
Wondering if it makes sense
Last sign
Look for a sign.
