

1. Activist

What good is fretting alone with your stock
Come with a tight clenched fist
I am an activist old chum
So come to this activist

Stop all the whining, the gripes and the gloom
Let's make a change if you're pissed
I am an activist old chum
So come get your problems fixed

Come now and sign
Come hear the rant
The firm's reborn
Start celebrating
Right this way your board seat's waiting

No use permitting the chairman of doom
To screw up this chance you'll miss
I am an activist old chum
So come to the activist

I used to have a CEO named Jerry
With whom I shared two crappy years not merry
He wasn't what you call a boss who hollers
As a matter of fact he wasted all the dollars

When Jerry left the shareholders came to snicker
Well that's what comes from too many perks and liquor
And when I saw him laid off like a has-been
He was the sorriest exec I'd ever seen

I think of Jerry to this very day
I remember how I turned to him and say
We are all dreading being stuck in your stock
It's time for you to be dismissed

I am an activist you bum
Sorry you won't be missed

And as for me, as for me
I made my mind up, it ain't me you'll bury
When I go, won't be like Jerry

Start by admitting one vote of the next
Will get you the change you wish
I am an activist old chum
And you need an activist old chum
So come to the activist
